

The Holocaust Historiography Project

Remarkable Nonsense about the Holocaust

Gas chambers at Terezienstadt

Horrors of Holocaust detailed for students

By Ron Jensen, Stars and Stripes European edition, Friday, April 30, 2004
<http://www.estripes.com/article.asp?section=104&article=21085&archive=true>

Joanna Millan was a baby when the Nazis took her and her mother to a concentration camp in Czechoslovakia. Her mother died, but Joanna was adopted by a Jewish couple in England. She told her remarkable story on Wednesday to students at Lakenheath High School in England.

[...]

She was separated from her mother soon after arriving at Thereisenstadt [...]

[...]

"I was one of less than 100 that came out alive in 1945," she said. "I believe I was saved because I had no one to take me to the gas chambers."

[...]

Send all questions and comments to webmaster@historiography-project.org.