

The Holocaust Historiography Project

Remarkable Nonsense about the Holocaust

Henry Kissinger's relatives were made into soap

A visit to the doctor | Nigel Fardale | February 13, 1999
_National_Post_ (letters@nationalpost.com), pp. B1, B3

Henry Kissinger's history lesson

[...]

When, on a visit to Germany, the Bonn government announced that Dr. Kissinger might visit some of his relatives, he intoned darkly, "My relatives are soap." (At least 13 of them were sent to the gas chambers.) Walter Isaacson, one of his biographers, believes that nearly all Dr. Kissinger's personality traits -- his philosophical pessimism, his confidence coexisting with his insecurities, his vanity with his vulnerability, and his arrogance with his craving for approval -- can be traced to the Holocaust ...

Send all questions and comments to webmaster@historiography-project.org.