Mankind is deeply manipulated and controlled. We all talk about this, in the general, non-specific way, and we agree on it. Well, it should also be obvious that, if we knew the ways in which we were manipulated, we wouldn't let it continue, right? We wouldn't put up with that.

Well, the secrets of the manipulators are closely guarded for this very reason. To see them is to be free of them. The seeing, itself, is the action of the freeing, in many cases. It is that amazing, is vision - and vision is very dear to my heart. It's one of my key strategies or ways of being. That's not said just right, but take what I mean, there.

What follows is an exercise in perspective. I hope that it is also an exposing of some of the ways in which we are regularly manipulated. You will be the deciders of that. :)

Dear Heart Friends,

This is one of the most challenging things to have done for me - to write these words that follow. I present them to you, not to change anyone's mind about anything - that is strictly up to you. I deeply respect and bow before the sovereign being that you are. You are more than capable of ruling your own domain - your own life.

So, now that you know I am not trying to sway you with this - then what am I doing, pray tell, touching on concepts both so mundane and so mental? Do you perhaps have the image of me as some sky goddess, some up-in-the-air being of Light - but one who is not practical? Well, maybe this will bust that bubble for you. I'm just me ;)

Okay, my heart's intent, here, is just to share. I am well aware, however, that what I present is not the majority view. Well, I could hardly care less about that. As Ghandi taught, one with God is a majority, Many things he said are in support of each one being the sovereign being that they already are - if they choose to be that.

So, I'm just being sovereign, here. And I'm sharing with you my views, my way of viewing this rather touchy subject. People are so deeply identified with it - on all sides - that tempers and energies run high around it. Well, while I respect that, I'm no coward. I'll play the fool, and jump in with both feet, here.

So, here's my suggestion. Let's all use this as an indicator, a barometer of our inner self. Let's all watch and closely observe, from within heart space, our response to this. Let's just watch - that's all. Much will be learned - much can be gained just this way.

You don't have to change your views at all. Just have a look at mine. Enter heart first - that's a very good idea ;)

The dark force has succeeded in making the firearms the point - they are not.

Many want guns banned. Please consider - cars kills hugely more people than guns. Should we ban cars? The whole logic, the whole playing field in this argument is faulty It is deceptive tactics, succeeding.

Consider Sun Tzu's The Art of War, please. Winning without fighting is supreme, always. A fight is a last resort.

Also consider - when we have in the world, as we do, today, much raw abuse of power - mechanization, manipulation, and control in the extreme. in this reality, it is simply not wise to be unarmed. It is to invite an attack, on the one hand - or to guarantee a loss if attacked. It is to be unnecessarily vulnerable.

Ultimately, it is simply foolish. The "enemy," no doubt followers of The Art of War, have manipulated so many into their camp - the way of their thinking. It is a diversion.

It is a preparation for complete take-over. Many people are too innocent to see this - to open their dear eyes to the dark forces and their strategizing. We wear blindfolds - allow ourselves to be distracted, misled. It is not necessary - it is a choice, too - not to see.

There was a small town in Florida, somewhere - memory doesn't serve me well - where the mayor passed a law - all must be armed. That meant to go shopping you had to go loaded. No one in a car or anywhere was to be unarmed.

What do you think was the net result? Did the death toll and injuries rise in proportion to the arms there? It was the opposite. Crime went so far down as to become practically invisible. Crooks are mostly cowards - or wise ones ;) - they don't attack a fortified target.

Guns do not kill people - people do. They use guns, or poisons or airplanes, or whatever, to do their killing. To attack the gun is to be diverted - to be fighting against the effect, not the cause. I hope you can see this.

Now, let's take it a further step backwards. Please come with me, into heart, and into full realization - you are not that body there - nor is your brother his body, her body - not that. You use it - you inhabit it with a part of your energy, your awareness. You are elsewhere.

Have you read the Bhagavhad Gita, sacred text of Asia, the East? Do you remember the advice of the heavenly Krishna to Arjuna, the prince, the leader in battle there? What did he say, when Arjuna sat down, distraught to see his relatives, uncles, and friends across the battle lines? He didn't want to fight? What was god's answer?

"Go into battle, but keep your heart at the lotus feet of the Lord." See that. Feel that. Get the sense of it. It's a wonderful book to read, as is the sun Tzu book. I recommend them.

To approach from another angle - we are not these bodies. As long as we make decisions based on being these bodies, those decisions will be fear based. We are in fear of harm or loss to the body - of the body. That is not the best or the highest focus. Please adjust upward. Take a new perspective on things. See how they look from there.

The balance of three sacred energies is paramount - their balance. These are Power, Wisdom, and Love - the divine energies that go by those names, not the human counterparts or imitations.

Raw earthly power charges ahead, knows it can conquer - or believes that. Raw earthly love feels love is the best answer - let's all disarm - turn the other cheek. To both of these must be added the seasoning of wisdom. Even the earthly wisdom of Sun Tzu would win the day.

Victory is to be found in balance. It is also found in the raising up into the divine virtues, the capitalized ones - pure Power, pure Wisdom, pure Love. These behave and manifest much differently than mankind, locked in 3D mind, can either predict or understand.

We gain nothing by laying down our arms, turning the other cheek, refusing to be reasonably fearful of the power and might - and the dark ways - of the enemy. We gain nothing by not being wise to his strategy - his tactics - his moves.

This is a call to wake up and arise in awareness surrounding this whole topic of guns and arms. This is a call to the heart - a call to see it from there. Take a new perspective on things - don't be afraid to have another look. It can't hurt.

Here are some words from a sincere one who wrote to me - let's look at them:

"Is there a difference between action and thought? Is the thought of killing, even the preparedness not already an act of violence?"

This could be a page right out of the dark side's book of tactics - to get us to believe this way. Can you see the distortion of the mental operations, there? This is (a way) to completely disarm the enemy - to get them to believe this way. They then make sitting ducks of themselves - easily conquered and led.

Then, years later when your takeover is complete - all freedom is restricted and heavily controlled - all are locked down, in effect - what then? How much good does it do, then, to mourn the lack of vision, of action - the failure to prepare, and to be wise? What of the Boy Scouts' excellent motto: Be prepared?

This is no place or time for 20/20 hindsight. I call for some foresight.

Another argument used is the straight religious one - turn the other cheek. Let yourself be killed. Christ is often used as example. Yes, there are times when this is appropriate - selective ones. Any student of history can well predict the likely results of the widespread use of that. One must consider the times - and know the enemy.

I will not argue with religion or religions beliefs. Everyone has the right to believe as he chooses - I support that.

There are some things to consider, though. In general, we don't have the pure teachings of anyone left to us, here on earth. The scriptures have been altered massively - or destroyed. The actual teachings of the Christ, the Buddha, the saints and sages simply did not survive the victors of long ago battles.

The winners write the history books. Stated simply: the powers that be don't want us to know the true teachings of these Light Beings. Pretty basic. (We've just underestimated - grossly - their power and ability to manipulate everything.)

So, for today's version of religion, personally, I have no respect for either it or its teachings. It is interwoven with too many lies. There is too much darkness there - at the top. Around the world, everywhere, it's the little people that are wonderful, no matter their color, religion, or anything.

The ones at the top of the main power structures of the earth are the very dark, however - that's how they got to and maintain those positions. And religion is one of the strongest of these power and control structures.* [Jordan Maxwell - awesome lecture offering his 30 or 40 years of research - Astro-Theology. Come to it in heart ;)]

We are not recognizing the amazing mental abilities of the forces arrayed against us, my friends. We are treating them as if they were just another one of us - another version of who and what we are. They are not. As was well said, our battle is with principalities and powers - with evil in high places - with a vicious disregard for life that is simply beyond our ken.

Let's not be stupid - that is my call. I don't, for a moment, recommend violence of any kind. I have no use for that. Nor do I recommend laying down your life, the lives of your families and communities - and whatever freedoms we still have - by just giving them up, out of either fear of violence or misguided beliefs of any kind.

Have you heard it said that God helps those who help themselves? We cannot expect to behave foolishly and then be rescued by God. It just doesn't work this way. Please realize that, on any battlefield, both sides are sending up prayers to the Lord - prayers for victory. Do look at that.

We must step up to the highest and best standards and ethics and values we can possibly conceive. Laying down my life for my brethren may just entail fighting to defend them - their right to be. One never knows. My call, my cry, even, is not to close the door on other, maybe higher ways of looking at things.

We are out-thought, oh, so easily, by these mental giants - these ETs. They are so far and away advanced over the current state of mankind. We cannot even begin to compete with them on their chosen battle field - which is the mind. They manipulate us so easily, there. That's their trump card. Don't you see?

Please consider that a big part of the manipulation of man may be exposed in this writing, right here. Please consider that some of your dearest held beliefs are what need challenging for you to break away from fear. Please, please, just be open to that. Take a few steps back, and get the mind out of the arena, entirely. Enter heart. Look at it from there.

That is all I ask. I don't tell you what to think, or how, or any such thing. I just share my own musings with you. Please know that it has been rather difficult for me to engage with the mental mind in this way - in this writing. It's not at all my favorite place to be or to operate from.

I retain my perch in the heart, nonetheless - and do all my "thinking" from there. (That's my goal, anyway - I'm not perfect, heaven knows.) So this is still my heart's perspective on these things.

Now, these are very 3D things. That's part of the pain of them. It's treating such transient things as if they hold deep meaning - when they don't. Mankind's tendency is to get so darned identified, so tied up in body and mind that he takes all of this so seriously - but not from the highest perspective.

Notice, I don't say the 'wrong' perspective. I don't know - maybe there is no such thing. There are better and higher ways to view things, though - always. That is what heart teaches us and takes us to - to the extent that we are willing. Being willing means being unattached to our own views - at least sufficiently to entertain fairly other possibilities.

So I call for an opening of hearts and of minds around this subject of arms. I call for us to come back together, and remember we are brethren, as we have this discussion. I am all for keeping arms - those who want to - peacefully keeping them.

I call on my fellow brethren to research their own country's history. Though it's no longer taught in schools, the reason for the 2nd Amendment to our Constitution was to keep the power in reserve to take the country back from a corrupt government that might extend - given the chance - beyond its lawful and moral powers. Absent this right of the people, we would long ago have been enslaved. I know that at least some of you can see this.

Wake-up!! Wake up and see the manipulation at work. You are not sheeple, but they think you are. That's how they will be defeated, too - in their overweening arrogance. They underestimate you and I - so let's wake-up, together. Let's enter heart. Let's find a higher way of viewing all of life.

I love you, my friends. I know this is difficult, even painful for some of you to read, to listen to. It strikes, perhaps, at some of your dearest, most closely held beliefs. Please, in the spirit of Byron Katie, let's realize that all thoughts - all beliefs - every one of them - are only false. The level of thought and belief is not the Real Thing. It's not what we're after. What we seek is always found within heart.

I love you. Now, go your own way, and with my blessing. I don't care what choices you make. That's up to you. That's your life you're leading there - and it's not up to me at all to run your affairs for you - to choose what you think, do, or say - what you feel. You are already divinity, manifest there. Let's all jointly awaken to that.

Love is us. Sometimes it must be tough Love - but Love is still Love. Mind cannot know how it will manifest. Together, let's enter the Kingdom of Heart.

* I do not single out any one religion or creed, here, as that is to fall in with another of the dark forces' plans - to pit brother against brother. Let's remember - we're brethren ♥
