General Instructions

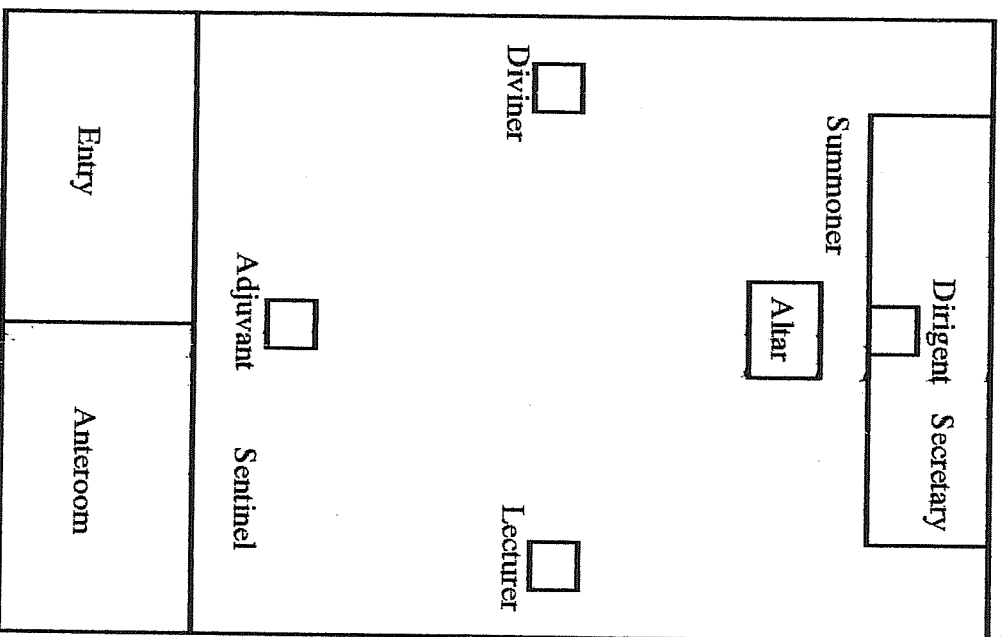

This ritual is provided to subordinate lodges of the Companions of the Stone as a means of guiding ordinary lodge business and assisting the work of the Order. Although the rituals of a subordinate lodge open in the Outer are not magical in nature, they should not be neglected or rushed through. They help ensure the smooth functioning of the lodge, and provide basic training in the outer aspects of ceremonial.

Every action in an open lodge is, in a sense, a ritual action. Companions should keep this in mind, and govern themselves accordingly. While grim seriousness is out of place in a lodge, the work will be equally hindered by a flippant or overly casual approach. Additionally, courtesy between Companions should be an unfailing rule, as it will prevent many difficulties. If two Companions have problems between themselves, they must be prepared to leave those problems outside the lodge door.

All movement in a lodge open in the Outer is "by the square" -- following straight lines and right angles. Movement in a lodge open in the First Degree is "by the circle" -- following circular arcs -- and should move clockwise around the lodge unless otherwise noted. This should be adhered to by all officers and Companions.

All members should be addressed as "Companion," followed by the member's lodge name or office, when the lodge is open. The Adept Dirigent shall be addressed as "Companion Dirigent" only.

Opening In The Outer

(The symbol ! represents one rap of the gavel)

Dirigent: ! Companions of _____ Lodge #__ of the Companions of the Stone, assist me to open this lodge in the Outer. Companion Sentinel, see that the lodge is properly guarded.

Sentinel: (goes to door) Companion Dirigent, the lodge is properly guarded.

Dirigent: Companion Summoner, confirm that all who are present have received the Word.

(Summoner goes directly to the seat of the Adept Dirigent, and receives the grip and password. Summoner then goes by the square clockwise around the lodge, receiving the grip and password from all present. Should any be without these, the Summoner shall say:.)

Summoner: Companion Dirigent, a Companion (or Friend of the Order) without the Word.

(In this case the Dirigent shall inquire of the Secretary if the Companion or Friend is in good standing in the lodge, and if so will instruct the Summoner to communicate the grip and password. When all present have given the grip and password, the Summoner shall return by the square to the center of the room, and say:.)

Summoner: Companion Dirigent, all have received it.

Dirigent: Let the officers of the lodge be proclaimed, that the Powers whose images they are may be reflected in the Spheres of those present and in the Sphere of our Order --- for by Names and Images all powers are awakened and reawakened. Companion Adjuvant, your station and work?

Adjuvant: My station is the Throne of the West. My work is to keep the Gateway to the Outer World and watch over the Companions in their work, to receive the Signs from the Companions, and to govern the lodge in your absence. My emblem is the emblem of darkness and judgement, and it reflects the image of the Banner of the Evening Twilight, which is the Banner of the West.

Dirigent: Companion Secretary, your station and work?

Secretary: My station is beside that of the Dirigent, and my work is to keep full and impartial records of the work of the lodge, to prepare all official documents of the lodge, and to have custody of all lodge funds and property. My emblem is the emblem of communication, and it symbolizes the place of the word in the work of our Order.

Dirigent: Companion Summoner, your station and work?

Summoner: My station is in the East, beside and below the Throne of the East, My work is to examine all present before the opening of the lodge, to lead and report, and to make all announcements within the lodge. My emblem is the emblem of will, and also of pilgrimage, and it symbolizes the Quest for the Stone to which each of us has been called.

Dirigent: Companion Lecturer, your station and work?

Lecturer: My station is at the South of the lodge, and my work is to instruct the Companions in the wisdom of our Order. My emblem is the emblem of knowledge, handed down to us by the wise of past ages.

Dirigent: Companion Diviner, your station and work?

Diviner: My station is at the North of the lodge, and my work is to perform all divinations which may be required by the Companions for the guidance of our lodge and our Order. My emblem is the emblem of insight, born of perception of the many realms of being.

Dirigent: Companion Sentinel, your station and work?

Sentinel: My station is beside the Gateway to the Outer World, and my work is to answer any alarm at the outer door, to receive the grip and password from Companions before they enter the lodge, and to bar the uninitiated from the meetings of our lodge. My emblem is the emblem of discrimination, and it symbolizes the way of balance which is narrow as a sword's blade.

Dirigent: My station is the Throne of the East, in the place where the Sun rises. My work is to govern the Companions of this Lodge impartially in accordance with the rites and laws of our Order, as That which I represent governs all who seek the Ancient Wisdom. My emblem is the emblem of light and mercy, and it reflects the image of the Banner of the Morning Light, which is the Banner of the East. Companions, I call upon each of you to be true to your obligations and the principles of our Order. Let courage, wisdom, temperance and justice govern all our actions as a lodge, so that the work of the Mysteries may be accomplished. !!! (All rise.) Let us invoke the Lord of the Universe.

All: Glory be unto Thee, Fount of the Undying! For Thy glory flows out rejoicing, to the ends of the Earth.

Dirigent: Companion Adjuvant, let the Light of the Stone be revealed among us.

Adjuvant: Companions, give the Sign of Silence. (All except Dirigent make the Sign to Adjuvant, who responds with the same Sign.) Companion Dirigent, the Light is revealed. (Adjuvant makes the Sign to Dirigent, who responds with the same Sign.)

Dirigent: Companion Summoner, you will proclaim this lodge open in the Outer.

Summoner: (From station) In the Name of the Lord of the Universe, Who works in silence and Whom nothing but silence can express, and in the presence of the Guardian Companions of our Order, I proclaim this lodge open in the Outer.

Dirigent: ! (All are seated.)

Dirigent: The Companion Secretary will now call the roll of officers.

The Secretary calls the lodge name and office of each officer, and the Summoner will answer "Present" or "Absent" as the case may be. If the office of an absent member is filled by another Companion, the Summoner will answer "Absent," give the name of the substituting Companion, and add the name of the office and the words "pro ten.")

Secretary: Companion Dirigent, the roll has been called (and absentees noted).

Introduction Of Visiting Companions

Dirigent: Companion Adjuvant, are there any visiting Companions to be welcomed?

Adjuvant: Companion Dirigent, there are (are not).

(The remaining section is to be used only if there are visitors to be introduced.)

Dirigent: Companion Summoner, present our visitors to the lodge. !!! (All rise.)

(Summoner goes by the square to the seat(s) of the visitor(s), and leads them by the square to the center of the room, where they face the Dirigent.)

Summoner: Companion Dirigent, I present to you and to our lodge Companion(s) _____ of _____ Lodge # ____ . (If visiting Companions hold offices, Summoner gives these also.)

Dirigent: Companions, I welcome you to this meeting of _____ Lodge # ____ . ! (All are seated; Summoner returns visitors to their seats by the square, and returns to his place.)

Reading Of Minutes

Dirigent: Companion Secretary, you will read the minutes of the last regular meeting of this lodge.

(Secretary remains seated while reading minutes.)

Dirigent: Companions, you have heard the minutes of our last regular meeting. Are there any corrections? (pauses) Hearing none, the minutes stand approved as read (or "as corrected").

(Any corrections presented shall be entered into the minutes, and the Dirigent shall then say, "Are there any further corrections?" before proceeding as above.)

Balloting

Dirigent: Companions, we will now prepare to vote on the admission of _____ to our lodge and our Order. Companion Summoner, you will prepare the ballot-box.

(Summoner rises, checks the ballot-box to see that it is prepared, and takes it directly to the seat of the Dirigent, who inspects it. Summoner next goes to the seat of the Adjuvant, who does the same. Summoner then returns and places the ballot-box on the altar below the Dirigent's station, with the opening facing the center of the lodge, and takes up his station at the center of the lodge facing Dirigent.)

Dirigent: Companions, we will now ballot on the name just read. White balls elect, black cubes reject. Consider your vote well. !!! (All rise.)

(Adjuvant advances a short distance from his station. Members on both sides file down to his station, form a single line behind him, and follow him to the center of the lodge. There, one at a time, they pass the Summoner and vote. When finished, they return to their places but remain standing. When all but Dirigent and Summoner have voted, the Summoner votes, then goes to the Dirigent's seat, and takes it (remaining standing) while the Dirigent, by the square, goes to the center of the lodge and thence to the ballot-box and votes. Dirigent then returns to his place, and Summoner returns by the square to the center of the lodge.)

Dirigent: If all who are eligible have voted (pause) I declare this ballot closed. ! (All are seated.)

(Summoner now advances to ballot-box, takes it, and goes by the square to Adjuvant's station, where Adjuvant inspects the ballot. Summoner then returns by the square to Dirigent's station, where Dirigent inspects the ballot.)

Dirigent: Companion Adjuvant, do you find the ballot favorable or unfavorable?

Adjuvant: Companion Dirigent, I find the ballot favorable (or “unfavorable,” as the case may be).

Dirigent: Companions, the application of _____ for admission to our lodge and our Order is accepted (or “rejected,” as the case may be.)

(Dirigent shall then destroy the ballot. Summoner then takes the ballot-box and returns to his station, unless there are more applications awaiting a vote.)

(Balloting on candidates for the Protection of the Order shall follow the same procedure, except that the words “to the Protection of the Order” shall replace the words “to our lodge and our Order.”)

(Balloting for advancement shall follow the same procedure, except that the words “advancement to the Grade of _____” or “to the Second Degree” shall replace “admission to our lodge and our Order,” and only those members who have received the Grade or Degree in question shall be permitted to ballot. The Companion whose advancement is the subject of the ballot shall retire in form to the anteroom while balloting takes place. The Summoner shall have the duty of receiving the password of the Grade or Degree from each Companion before allowing that Companion to advance to the ballot-box. In the event that the Summoner has not received the Grade or Degree in question, the Dirigent shall appoint a substitute for the duration of the ballot.)

Opening In The First Degree

(The symbol ! represents one rap of the staff.)

(If the Dirigent will not be serving as Chief in the ritual work, this passage, between lines, is to be used.)

Dirigent: ! Companion N., you will advance to the East and take charge of the lodge. (The Companion chosen to act as Chief then advances by the square to the center of the floor and thence to the East, taking the Throne of the East, while the Dirigent retires to the vacated seat.)

Chief: Companions, you will assist me to close this lodge in the Outer and open it in the First Degree. Those present who are not Companions of our Order must depart. Companion Summoner, you will proclaim it so.

Summoner: ! Procul, Procul esti profani!

(Anyone present who is under the Order's protection is at this point led out of the lodge room by the Summoner. When this is done and the door secured, the rite continues.)

Chief: In the Name of the Lord of the Universe, and with the help of the Guardian Companions of the Stone, I assume the Throne of the East and take up the power of the Spiritual Sun.
(Chief takes staff from its holder.)

Chief: Companion Adjutant, confirm that all present have witnessed the Light of the Stone. !!! (All rise.)

Adjutant: Companions, give the Sign of Entering. (All give Sign to Adjutant, who responds with the Sign of Silence.)
Chief of the Rite, all have witnessed it. (Adjutant then gives Sign of Entering to Chief, who answers with the Sign of Silence.)

Chief: I (All are seated.) The following Companions will take part in our present work. (Names the Companions and the ritual offices they will be taking.)

Chief: Companions N. and N., you will advance the altar to the center of the lodge, and then purify and consecrate the lodge with water and fire.

(The Companions chosen for this task will normally be the Lecturer and Diviner, if these offices are filled; if not, any conveniently placed Companions may serve. Both go by the square to the sides of the altar, and move it to the center of the lodge directly, passing between the Pillars. (When this has been done, a Companion seated in the East will place the throne of the Guide between the Pillars.) The Companion on the South side then goes to the place of Fire, and takes up the censer, while the Companion on the North side of the altar goes to the place of Water and takes up the cup. They then circle with the sun, remaining at opposite ends of a line drawn through the altar. Each, beginning in the East, traces a cross in the air with the implement and then sprinkles or censers thrice to the quarter, doing this at each of the four stations.)

(As each returns to the East, he or she says:)

Water: I purify with Water.

Fire: I consecrate with Fire.

(They continue to circle until they have returned to the places of their respective elements, then replace cup and censer and stand in readiness.)

Chief: !!! (All rise.) Let the Circumambulation take place in the Path of Light.

(Circumambulation is performed:

(Summoner leaves the East and goes around hall with Sun. Other officers fall into place before or behind Summoner in the order of their First Degree ritual offices; the order is Herald, Warden, Guide, Keeper of Water, and Keeper of Fire. The procession then passes the East and circles clockwise around the hall. All lodge officers who are not taking part in the ritual work relinquish their stations as the circumambulation begins. The Warden passes the East once and then falls out as soon as he reaches the Throne of the West; the Guide falls out after passing the East twice; all others pass the East thrice, and then fall out as they reach their First Degree stations. When passing the East, each officer makes the Sign of Entering. When they have reached their First Degree stations, all officers stand in front of the podia.)

Chief: The Circumambulation, symbolizing the rise of Light, is accomplished. Let us invoke the Lord of the Universe.

All: Holy art Thou, Lord of the Universe. (Sign of Entering) and fly to the uttermost parts of the sea, even there shall Thy hand lead me and Thy right hand hold me. If I say, peradventure the darkness shall cover me, even the night shall be turned light unto Thee.

Thine is the Air with its movement. Thine is the Fire with its flashing flame. Thine is the Water with its ebb and flow. Thine is the Earth with its enduring stability. (Guide makes a cross in the air with the Lantern; all others give the Signs toward the Altar. Guide returns to her place.)

Companions of _____ Lodge # ___ of the Companions of the Stone, behold your Dirigent, our Companion _____, who has been duly installed in the presence of the Guardian Companions of the Stone. I proclaim him the Preserver of Mysteries among you for the following six months. Companion Dirigent, in the presence of the members of your lodge, I call upon you to make your confession.

New Dirigent: Companions of our Order, the whole intention of our Mysteries, and of the outer Initiations they enshrine, is to purify and consecrate the soul through symbol, ceremony and sacrament so that it may be withdrawn from the domination of outer things, and, once withdrawn, to assist it to know its true direction that it may take on its proper place and power in the universe, in harmony with the Will of the Infinite. This therefore I do confess and testify, from my throne in this Lodge of the Companions of the Stone, and I pledge myself, to the best of my ability, to so guide and direct the work of this Lodge that each of you may be made ready for the greater Mysteries and the supreme and inward Initiation.

New Dirigent: In virtue of the power committed to me, I proceed to invest the officers of this lodge. Let the Adept Adjuvant come to the East. (Adjuvant advances to the throne of the Dirigent.) By the power committed to me, I ordain you Adept Adjutant of this lodge for the ensuing six months, and empower you to act in my stead, and with my full power, when circumstances require me to be absent from any meeting of this lodge.

New Adjuvant: I accept this responsibility. (Goes to east of the Altar and dons medallion.) The Word is restored to us. (Goes to West, and then resumes place.)

New Dirigent: Let the Secretary come to the East. (Secretary advances to the throne of the Dirigent.) By the power committed to me, I ordain you Secretary of this lodge for the ensuing six months, and empower you to have custody of all records and resources of the lodge.

New Lecturer: I accept this responsibility. (Goes to east of the Altar and dons medallion.) The Word is restored to us. (Goes to West, and then resumes place.)

New Dirigent: Let the Diviner come to the East. (Diviner advances to the throne of the Dirigent.) By the power committed to me, I ordain you Diviner of this lodge for the ensuing six months, and empower you to guide the lodge in its work through the exercise of your gifts.

New Diviner: I accept this responsibility. (Goes to east of the Altar and dons medallion.) The Word is restored to us. (Goes to West, and then resumes place.)

New Dirigent: Let the Sentinel come to the East. (Sentinel advances to the throne of the Dirigent.) By the power committed to me, I ordain you Sentinel of this lodge for the ensuing six months, and empower you to guard this lodge and to test all who enter with the words and signs of our Order.

New Sentinel: I accept this responsibility. (Goes to East of the Altar and dons medallion.) The Word is restored to us. (Goes to West, and then resumes place.)

(Herald then comes forward and replaces the Elements in their proper places on the Altar. Dirigent then rises from his throne, relinquishing it to the Chief of the Rite, and returns to his place. The Chief may address the lodge. When he has finished, he begins the Closing of the First Degree.)

Closing In The First Degree

Chief: I (One knock) Companions, you will assist me to close this lodge in the First Degree. Companions N, and N', you will purify and consecrate the lodge with water and fire.

(This will normally be done by the Keepers of Water and Fire, if these offices have been filled in the ritual; otherwise, any conveniently placed Companions may perform this duty. The officers advance with the Sun to the stations of Water and Fire, as necessary, and from there purify and consecrate as in the Opening of the First Degree. As each comes to the East a second time, they say:)

Water: I purify with water.

Fire: I consecrate with fire.

(The officers continue around to the stations of Water and Fire, replacing cup and censer, and then return with the Sun to their own stations if necessary.)

Chief: !!! (All rise.) Let the reverse circumambulation take place in the Path of Light.

(Circumambulation is performed:

(Chief rises, staff in one hand. All other officers with staffs return these to their places. Herald then leaves the East and goes around hall against Sun, Warden, Guide, and Keepers of Water and Fire falling in behind, in that order. The procession then passes the East and circles counterclockwise around the hall. The Warden falls out after passing the East once, resuming his First Degree station; the Guide passes the East twice, and then does the same; the others pass the East thrice, and then fall out as they reach their First Degree stations. When passing the East, each officer makes the Sign of Silence. When they have resumed their stations, officers stand in front of their podia.)

Chief: The reverse circumambulation, symbolizing the fading of Light, is accomplished. Let us invoke the Lord of the Universe.

All: Holy art Thou, Lord of the Universe. (Sign of Entering)

Holy art Thou, whom Nature hath not formed. (Sign of E.)

Holy art Thou, the Vast and the Mighty One, (Sign of E.)

Lord of the Light and of the Darkness. (Sign of Silence)

Chief: I (All are seated.)

Chief: Nothing now remains to us but to partake together in silence of the Communion of the Four Elements, and to remember the mysteries we have witnessed and the obligations we keep. (Goes to West of altar.)

I invite all beings present, therefore, to breathe with me the perfume of this Rose, as a symbol of Air; to feel with me the warmth of this sacred Fire; to eat with me this Bread and Salt as types of Earth, and finally to drink with me from this cup of Wine, emblematic of Water.

(Communion of Elements is performed. Chief goes to East of altar as Warden goes to the West of the lodge, if necessary, and advances to West of altar. When Warden has partaken, Chief returns to the Throne of the East and Warden goes to East of altar. Guide, Keeper of Water, Keeper of Fire, and all members follow, each in turn receiving and then offering communion. Herald comes last of all. As the officers, each in turn, finish offering communion, they go to the West and then pass with the sun to their Outer Lodge stations; one of the Companions seated in the East will remove the throne of the Guide from between the Pillars at this time. At the end of the communion, only the Chief occupies his or her First Degree station.)

Herald: (Finishes wine.) It is finished. (He goes to the West after the member who has served him, and returns to his Outer lodge station with the Sun.)

Chief: May that which we have received maintain and strengthen us in our quest for the Stone. Companions N. and N., you will now retire the altar from the center of the lodge.

(This will normally be done by the Lecturer and Diviner, if these offices have been filled; if not, any conveniently placed Companions may do so. The officers advance by the square to the sides of the altar and move it back to its position three feet in front of the Dirigent's station, then return to their stations by the square.)

Chief: Companion Summoner, you will proclaim this lodge closed in the First Degree and open in the Outer.

Summoner: (From station) In the Name of the Lord of the Universe, who works in silence and whom nothing but silence can express, and in the presence of the Guardian Companions of our Order, I proclaim that the Sun has set but its Light remains.

Chief: 1 (All are seated.)

(This passage, between lines, is to be used if the Dirigent has not served as Chief of the Rite in the ritual work.)

Chief: 1 Companion N., you will advance to the East and resume charge of the lodge. (The Dirigent advances to the East and takes the Throne of the East; the Chief resumes his or her station in the Outer.)

Closing In The Outer

Dirigent: I Companions of _____ Lodge # ___ of the Companions of the Stone, assist me to close this lodge in the Outer.
